Does Hubby

Match Furniture

And now it seems husband must match the furniture. Interior decorating on this continent apparently has reached the stage where it is essential that friend husband's completion and hair tone in with window drapes and bedspreads. At least that is the conclusion if one is to take a recent letter to a certain California radio station as symptomatic of the general trend of women's ambitions.

In a recent batch of publicity received from one of the American chain systems, a paragraph stated that those in charge of one of the women's departments had received this letter from a home-maker in Sonoma, California:

I discovered my husband and our furniture did not match at all. I exchanged the furniture, which was green, for high-lighted mahogany. But now I cannot find the proper color for drapes and linen. My husband is difficult; his complexion is fallow. What shall I use?

The broadcast is trying to solve the problem. But perhaps the lady in distress will yet be forced to change her husband. She may even set the fashion in the States for new grounds for divorce.

At The Rex Theatre

Friday and Saturday

The great farce comedy romance "Modern Love," starring Jean Harlow, Kathlyn Crawford and Charlie Chase. The screaming story of an even-break marriage that became an even split. It's a glittering story of a "perchance" marriage that is a laughing certainty. New pink undies, and the girls who wear 'em will tickle you pink. The above mentioned stars with this knockout of a story will give you the laugh of a lifetime. It's a real good one. Also a 2 reel comedy.

It's a silent programme and will show at 15c, 25c, 45c. Matinee Saturday at 2.30, at 10c, 20c, and 35c.

As the Rex Theatre will be under new management, commencing the 3rd of March, Mr. Dunphy takes this opportunity to thank all his patrons for their support during his long stay in Lacombe. He solicits your further support of the new management.

Dental Clinic

Monday was an extremely busy day at the Lacombe School, the entire student population having been given a dental examination by our local dentists, Dr. J. H. W. Moore, and Dr. G. E. Budd.

On Tuesday afternoon, two sessions were held in the Rex Theatre, where the young folks gathered to see the "mouth health pictures, and to listen to a lecture by Dr. Harry Thompson, Field secretary for the Canadian Dental Hygiene Council.

At 8:00 p.m. another meeting was held for adults, when Dr. Harry Thompson, reviewed the splendid educational and preventive work done during the last twenty years, by such outstanding organizations as the Tuberculosis Association, the Canadian Mental Hygiene Council, the Red Cross, the Child Welfare Society, and the Canadian Dental Hygiene Council; also giving in detail such preventive measures as would enable people to have sound teeth.

Mayor G. T. Jackson presided at this meeting, and solos by Miss E. Sims and Mr. E. Rhind were enjoyed by the audience.

It is hoped that the younger folk, at least, will be benefitted as a result of the clinic.

Canada's First

Woman Senator

It was expected that the government would seize an early opportunity to act upon the recent decision of the privy council and appoint a woman to the senate. This it has done by the selection of Mrs. Norman F. Wilson of Ottawa for an Ontario vacancy. As it was on the initiative of a group of Alberta women that the right of their sex to sit in the upper chamber was determined, the honor would be very appropriately have first come to this province. But no Alberta seat was available.

The new senator may be well qualified for the duties that she is to assume. But the information that is furnished regarding her previous activities indicates that she has been chosen mainly because of her claims upon the party in power. She is the honorary president of the National Federation of Liberal Women, and has been a prominent political worker. Her husband is a former Liberal member of the house of commons, while her father was the late Senator McKay of Montreal, and was long a force to be reckoned with in the councils of that party. He was a very wealthy man and was known to have contributed generously to its funds.

The large majority of appointments to the upper house have been made by both sides simply because the partisan services and there is great need of getting away from this practice. It was hoped that, with women eligible to sit there, they would be selected for other reasons than their partisan services. The general character of the Canadian people as a whole. On this account it is regrettable that the first woman senator has not wider claims to the distinction conferred upon her than appears to be the case.

Lacombe Team

Beat Edmonton

It was certainly a surprised and disappointed team that journeyed back to Edmonton after being beaten—yes, whitewashed—by Lacombe Intermediate last Saturday night, by the lopsided score of 5 to 0. To say it was a fast game is putting it mildly, and although the score does sound like a walkover, it was far from such, and believe us, our able goaler had his hands full at times turning away almost certain goals. Grayson was certainly on, and his saves at times were nothing short of miraculous. Undoubtedly the stars of the game were Laughlin, Cook and Edmunds, although every man on the team was playing alright hockey. The scoring was done by Cook, Edmunds and Laughlin. The local team was weakened greatly by the loss of E. Galkins, but the remainder of the team played just that much harder. The Edmonton team is a snappy organization, but were much lighter in weight than the locals, and thus could not stand the heavier checking. Although Edmonton was playing up to their highest standard, a paragraph was never in danger for even an instant, and last Saturday game will practically insure the third round of the Provincial Playoff.

The Edmonton Beasts' were successful in winning the second game in the third round of the Provincial Playoff in Edmonton last night. Lacombe won the first game here 5 to 0 and the final count gave Lacombe a margin of 5 goals to win the round. About 80 people from Lacombe motored to Edmonton for the game and report it as one of the best they have seen for a long time. Lacombe's team was considerably handicapped by the long trip and also by the much larger shot of ice, but put up a real game. The fourth and final round of the playoff will be against either Coleman or Medicine Hat, and will be played next week.

Juveniles Win

From Blackfalds

In a good game of hockey held in the Lacombe arena on Tuesday night, Blackfalds went down to defeat before the onslaughts of the speedy Lacombe Juniors by a score of 7 to 1. Getting the first score, Blackfalds looked like they would give our team a hard game, but as time went on, the better practiced juveniles came into their own, and goal after goal was netted. Considering that the southern team have not the opportunity for much practice, they put up a good game, and played hard right to the end showing their gameness by playing their hardest under almost hopeless conditions—the Lacombe juveniles are a speedy team, and would be hard to beat by any team in the province. Blackfalds on the other hand was only what would be called a "pick-up" team and several of them had not played as a team before. We would like to see another game between these two teams, and we feel sure that if the Blackfalds team were given a few good, systematic practices they would give a much better account of themselves. The have the material, so that practice is the only thing needed.

Field Work Power

There's a Size for Every Farm

Spring work comes with a rush—you need power, sure, certain power, hour after hour, day after day, you need it steadily, incessantly from the first furrow to the last seed. The more work to do the quicker you must do it. The more acre to plow, the more land to work—the more your profits of this year's operations depends on POWER.

Put a CATERPILLAR in your fields. On the side hills, through loose summer fallow or heavy soft spots it will work harder, steadier, surer, with less trouble and at less expense than any other form of power you can use.

About That Bull

The Western Globe has always tried to play fair with everyone in general and our readers in particular, and we think all will agree that our paper has always suppressed happenings which the editor thought might cause unnecessary worry to those concerned.

Last week we published the following item:

"A farmer of the district was fined in court this week for selling the carcass of an animal to a local store, said animal having died from the effects of strangling in its tie rope. A strict watch will be kept in future in respect to meat being offered for sale, and the officials intend seeing that the law in this respect is carried out to the letter. It might be a good idea for the council to appoint a meat inspector for the municipality."

This item referred to an animal that had died or had been slaughtered while nearly dead, and afterwards sold to a local dealer. The purchasers were unaware of the manner of the animal's death, the owner of the carcass stating it was a fine steer which had broken its neck, and had immediately been bled. If this was true the meat would have been all right. You can imagine the surprise of the editor when he received the following letter from J. R. McClure, Barrister, Red Deer:

Messrs. C. B. Halpin & Sons,
Lacombe, Alberta.

Dear Sirs:

Re. William Threlfell, Lacombe. I beg to advise that I have been consulted by Mr. Threlfell of Lacombe in connection with a libelous news item which was published on the 18th February last. The said item appears in the third column of the second page and commences "A farmer of the District" and ends "Inspector for the Municipality." There is no question of a doubt but that Mr. Threlfell is the farmer alluded to and there is just sufficient truth in the article to identify the circumstances under which Mr. Threlfell was convicted of a certain charge at Lacombe, but in the main, the allegations are untrue and as such are libelous, and as a result of same Mr. Threlfell will suffer damage. Mr. Threlfell complains particularly of the following words used, "said animal having died from the effect of strangling in its tie rope." I wish to point out that this is not a fact. The truth is that the animal was injured as the result of a fight with another bull and as a result of the injury, which I am instructed had nothing to do with the value of the meat of the animal killed, Mr. Threlfell cut the animal's throat and had it bled in the usual way.

This is to advise you that unless you are prepared to make a correction of the article in next week's issue and to publish the truth, Mr. Threlfell will hold you liable for the libel published concerning him and take action against you, if necessary.

Yours truly,
J. R. McClure,
JRM:M

Now, wouldn't that jar you. As a warning to others, and to safeguard the interests of our citizens, we published the item objected to; we published no names, and had Mr. Threlfell let well enough alone, not one person in a thousand would know to whom it referred. But everyone cannot be pleased, and here we are up against a libel suit. And in these hard times, too. The facts of the Threlfell case, so far as we know, are as follows. "A bull of his was injured in some manner. The veterinarian was called in. The animal's neck was so swollen and distorted that no aid could be given. The animal was slowly suffocating, and as Mr. McClure says was 'bled in the usual manner' after it had fallen down. Then the carcass was sold to a local dealer, and had it not been for Corp. Nalder, our citizens would have been regaling themselves on this festive bull meat, and when the news got about would suffer sundry convulsions in the vicinity of their stomachs. Hearing the news of the sale of the bull's carcass, and the manner in which it came to its untimely end, Corp. Nalder visited the store where the carcass reposed and condemned the meat, and ordered Mr. Threlfell to remove it to his own farm. This was done. Then as a warning to others, a complaint was laid against Mr. Threlfell, charging: "That he did unlawfully offer for sale the carcass of an animal, to wit: a bull which had died of sickness, or had been killed while sick." The charge was laid under Regulation 71 of the Public Health Act. Mr. Threlfell pleaded guilty and was fined $5.00 and costs, which he paid forthwith.

This is not the first time that it has been brought to our knowledge that meat from animals which died or were killed under similar circumstances has been brought into town and sold, and it is about time authorities stopped in and made some arrangement for adequate inspection of meats offered for sale for human food.

And in the meantime, we will take the matter up with our Solicitor, and see how our verdict stands in the bank and be prepared for eventualities.

LACOMBE JUVENILES BEATEN BY PONOKA

In a fast game of hockey played against a team from Ponoka, composed of Juniors and Seniors, the local juveniles team was defeated by a score of 3 to 2. It was a great game and everyone who attended enjoyed every minute of it.

Tees and Trotts co-operated to make the first goal of the game, just four seconds after the face-off, and the fans thought it would be a walk-away for the locals, but the Ponoka team didn't see it that way and try as they did, the locals couldn't bulge the hump any more in this period, but the outsiders couldn't either, and the season ended with Lacombe one up.

In the second period Carthours got through on a solo rush to make the second counter for Lacombe, which was followed by Ponoka getting in their first tally. The period ended with Lacombe still one up.

In the last period Ponoka got in a second counter before the game was very old and tied the count; then the locals began stopping and broke through time after time only to be met by a stonewall defence set up by the goalies or to miss the goal by inches. Ponoka having all to win too, began stepping out and got in the winning goal with eight minutes to go. Lacombe tried their best to tie the game up, but without avail.

Mouth Health Campaign

It is already too late for many who have reached adult years to have more than remedial work done upon their teeth, but it is not so with the children and particularly with those of pre-school age. It is here that preventive dentistry can be practised with the most lasting benefits both to the individual and to the state. With the idea of saving the men and women of tomorrow from the suffering and disease of the present generation the gospel of preventive dentistry is being carried to the homes and schools of Alberta. The campaign is being conducted by the Canadian Dental Hygiene Council, working in co-operation with the Department of Health and the Department of Education of the Province, and the Alberta Dental Association. The Province has been divided into twenty-two districts for the purpose of the organization of this great campaign.

Preventive dentistry does not mean visits to the dentist's office. It is education of the young people in the proper care of the teeth, and that means less trouble in adult years and a healthier and happier people.

Every child attending school in the Province of Alberta will receive instruction in dental hygiene during the next sixty days through the medium of the Province-wide campaign, which is being conducted by the Canadian Dental Hygiene Council.

It is the greatest good health campaign ever attempted in the Province of Alberta and will be of outstanding benefit to thousands.

Argument Is Not Happy One

There may be several good arguments to justify the Alberta government's continued refusal to earmark revenue from gasoline taxation and motor vehicle licenses for highway purposes, but Hon. Percen Baker appears to have overlooked all of them.

The minister of education spoke on the budget on Thursday. Dealing with this particular topic, he is reported to have said:

"It would be just as reasonable to admit that because a large number of people contributed to the liquor revenue that next year they should be provided with larger and better bottles and more luxurious liquor stores."

The gasoline tax and the motor vehicle license are imposed on a definite group of taxpayers who own motor vehicles. They do not apply generally. According to the estimates they will provide a total revenue of $4,436,000 in the next fiscal year. Car owners are taxed directly and in return, they are entitled to good highways. These can be assured if all the motor revenue is devoted to the purpose.

Patrons of liquor stores are not subjected to direct taxation as such. If one excepts the two dollar cost of a yearly permit. Some may feel they are entitled to more choice brands and even larger bottles for the prices charged by the government, but they do not demand more luxurious quarters for the government vendors.

Furthermore, the minister was not happy in his choice of argument because in most of the provinces liquor profits are not all thrown into general revenue. A portion of them is earmarked for hospital and school purposes, as in British Columbia, or for highway improvement and reduction of the provincial debt, as in Quebec.

"By careful selection of the character of colonists we can place in Canada we help in the development of the Dominion," Col. J. S. He will discuss certain agreements between the Government and the C. P. R. regarding movement and placing of British colonists in Canada.

The milk consumption in the United States is about 485 pounds per capita per year or less than a pint per day per person. Canadians eat more butter than the people of any other country in the world—29.31 pounds per capita per annum—an increase from 25.79 pounds since 1921. Their appetite for ice cream has increased from 5.26 pints in 1921 to 7.44 pints in 1928 and the per capita consumption of cheese has risen from 7.51 pounds in 1921 to 3.64 pounds.

Assassin Ensured Fame

Each anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln inspires a new flood of incidents in which he figured—many of which are probably the product of the imagination—and produce a new and constantly expanding estimate of the place he will occupy in history. Writing in the Sunday Times of New York, for example, Emil Ludwig, German historian and biographer predicts for the great Emancipator a greater fame in this century than in the past.

That is probably true. There were few of Lincoln's contemporaries who regarded him as the tremendous figure history has made him. Few of them saw in him anything great. Their perspective was obscured by the tragic events in which they shared. He was no more illustrious to them than Mr. Hoover or Mr. Coolidge are to the present generation of Americans.

It is an interesting speculation how much of the fame of Lincoln is due to his sudden passing by the hand of an assassin. He died at the height of his triumph as the victorious conqueror in the Civil War and as the great apostle of freedom for the colored race. Had he lived on through the troubled and reputation-destroying reconstruction days he would have been the object of bitter political reproach. His further public career, even if it embodied another term in the White House, would undoubtedly have taken on the nature of an anti-climax. His experience might have been similar to that of President Wilson. This great war president of the United States ended his career in an atmosphere of disillusionment if not tragedy. Many of his former devoted disciples had become lukewarm. He narrowly escaped defeat in his second year for the presidency.

Fate accorded the same treatment to Clemenceau of France and Lloyd George of Great Britain, idols of the war. They lived on to see other men ascend to power and their own faded. Had Lincoln lived another four years, who will say he would be held today in the deserved veneration which is accorded him by all races? From the standpoint of history, he was fortunate in his passing at the apex of his glory and accomplishment.

EXTRACTS FROM DIRECTORS' REPORT

New policies paid for numbered 164,391 for a net amount of $654,451,183.27, an advance of $213,207,000, or more than forty-eight per cent., over the previous year. This marked increase and the fact that the average policy for the first time, exceeded $4,000, afford impressive evidence of the ever-growing popularity of the Company.

After deducting amounts reserved, the total assurances in force amount to $2,401,237,036.94, an increase of $504,322,102.37. This advance is notable not merely for its magnitude, but because when allowance is made for terminations by death and maturity, it represents a remarkably high rate of continuance, and evidence of great satisfaction on the part of our policyholders.

The amount paid to policyholders since organization, together with the amount at present held for their security or benefit, exceeds the total amount received from them in premiums by $139,290,476.03.

The rate of interest earned on the mean invested assets has risen to 7.02 per cent. This figure includes a certain amount from bonuses and stock privileges accruing or many of the Company's holdings; but if these were entirely eliminated the rate would still be 6.60 per cent.

A net profit of $13,077,284.62 was realized from the redemption or sale of securities.

The surplus earned during the year, based on the values entered in the accounts, amounted to $42,863,000, but from this must be deducted the provisions have as usual been made to further strengthen the position of the Company.

An additional $10,000,000.00 has been deducted from the market values of our securities as a provision against possible market fluctuations, raising the amount thus set aside for this purpose in the accounts to $50,000,000.00.

A further $1,000,000.00 has been written off the Company's buildings.

$251,000.00 has been appropriated to raise the annuity reserves to the Rutherford table of valuation, with interest at 3 1/2 per cent. This existing standard requires reserves of $2,550,000.00 in excess of those of the Dominion Government standard.

$1,200,000.00 has been set aside as an additional provision for claims arising from total disability, death claims as yet unreported, and possible claims under cancelled policies on which a surrender value or reinstatement might be applied.

$27,606,666.67 has been paid or allotted as profits for the year to policyholders.

The special amount entered as a liability to provide for unforeseen contingencies has been maintained at $12,500,000.00.

After making all these deductions and allocations, $5,869,000.96 has been added to the undivided surplus, bringing the total over liabilities, contingency accounts and capital stock, to $60,307,762.44.

In accordance with our usual conservative practice the securities owned by the Company have again been valued at figures much below the market quotations current at the close of the year. This undervaluation represents an important element of strength to the Company additional to the specific provisions in the statements.

Your Directors are pleased to announce that the high scale of profits at present allotted to participating policyholders will be continued during the ensuing year, while the Special Dividend on maturing policies, introduced last year, has been extended to include policies maturing after having been in force five years or longer and the scale of benefit has been increased.

The business of the Company has always been conducted under the exacting provisions of the Canadian Insurance law and the rigid supervision of the Insurance Department of the Government of Canada. Ever since we entered the United States in 1895, the Company has been under similar supervision there and is now subject to the regulations of thirty-eight States of the Union which require periodic examination of the affairs of all companies licensed in their territory. In the discharge of their regular duties, a committee of twenty-two examiners, representing the States of Michigan, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Ohio, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia, Florida and the District of Columbia recently completed an exhaustive examination into every department of the Company's affairs. The report of this committee makes gratifying reference to the liberal treatment accorded to our policyholders, and provides authoritative testimony to the Company's strength. Even adopting the low valuations placed by us on our securities, the committee still reported a surplus at the close of last year of $1,339,211.71 in excess of the sum claimed by the Company.

Dumb Commerce

In connection with Empire Trade and Empire Buying campaigns in general, it is quite axiomatic that the more we in Canada talk about Empire buying, the more aggressive the salesmen from foreign lands will become, and, unless we translate our words into action, their inroads into our commerce will become greater and even greater. It is this thought that has caused us frequently to complain because the salesmen of the Empire—usually have the English salesman especially in mind—do not come after our business. Consequently, we follow the line of the least resistance and buy from the salesman who comes to us instead of from him to whom we would have to go. Nor are we to be blamed.

A little while ago, an Eastern paper (was it not the Ottawa Citizen?) asked pertinently, "What about ourselves?" Are we, it inquired, doing any better? Some of our more aggressive business houses may have reached the conclusion that we are not but now no less representative an organization that the Canadian

Chamber of Commerce says it also thinks so. In this month's issue of its publication, "The Commerce of the Nation," it compares our methods with the Phoenicians' described by Mr. H. Gordon Selfridge in "The Romance of Commerce" as follows: "The Phoenicians unloaded their wares, laid them on the seashore, then lighting a fire, retired to a distance. The timid natives would see the smoke and follow its lead until they reached the goods. They would examine them, place small heaps of gold dust beside them and then withdraw. The merchants returned and examined the ore, and, if satisfied, would take it and leave the goods in exchange. If not they left everything as it was, built more fire and again retired. The natives would return and either place more gold dust with the other or take their ore away."

The mouthpiece of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce admits that our methods are different "but if we consider our efforts in some of the foreign markets it is a deserved and honest criticism that we have oftentimes carried on a 'dumb commerce,' inasmuch as Canadian business is not adequately expressing itself in overseas markets. Were it not for the very excellent work being done by Canadian Trade Commissioners, Canada's commerce in what to us are the newer markets would often-times be of little account."

It is very proper that the Commissioners of the Commercial Intelligence Service should be given credit for what they have accomplished. They have broken the ground for the Canadian salesman in Latin America and the Orient with the result that we find Canadian merchandise in high favor there—a desire to trade which Canadian salesmen can follow up to good advantage; as, of course, some of them already have. Without ignoring what has already been done the Chamber of Commerce publication reaches the conclusion that— "It seems as if we are inclined at times to leave our export invitations to the caprice of fortune. We have now reached a period in our progress when we should seek to co-ordinate our export policy and consolidate our position as a leading export country. We can no longer afford to be haphazard in our approach to foreign markets. Absenteeism to foreign trade is to be strongly deprecated.

Canada and Great Britain

Nothing could be more vituperative than the attempt of certain individuals and newspapers in this country to sow seeds of strife between Canada and Great Britain by misrepresenting the attitude of the Old Country towards our surplus wheat. From every quarter, British and Canadian in London have come absolute denials of the canard and proofs that British millers and bakers always give Canadian wheat and flour the preference. Simultaneously with the publication of these offensive stories, Sir William Mulock, grand old man of Toronto, has made a speech emphasizing Canada's advantages as a part of the British Empire and Canada's obligations to Great Britain. This tribute to the British Commonwealth was paid by the Chief Justice in the course of his reply to felicitations from a great gathering of admirers brought together to do him honor in Toronto the other day. More About That Lamented Bull

As will be seen by Mr. McClure's letter elsewhere, The Western Globe is expected to publish the true facts of how the bull came to its end, before it was sold in Lacombe. We do so gladly, and are sorry that Mr. Threlfall did not ask us to give his true version instead of rushing to a lawyer and paying out real money for nothing.

According to Mr. McClure, who has apparently secured his information from Mr. Threlfall—

"The truth is that the animal was injured as the result of a fight with another bull, and as a result of his injury, which I am instructed, had nothing to do with the value of the meat of the animal killed, Mr. Threlfall cut the animal's throat and had it bled in the usual way."

And that's that. Further information as to the charges on which Mr. Threlfall was summoned before the court, pleaded guilty to, and was fined for, appears on another page.

NOW IT'S OUR TURN TO TELL ONE ABOUT THE BULL

Having printed Mr. Threlfall's truth about the dead bull, as placed before us by Barrister McClure, the editor will give the truth as he sees it about the same animal. The dead bull was not properly bled; the carcass was in a disgusting state, the front of neck being on the verge of putrefaction and emitting a strong stench just a few hours after it had been brought to town. Part of the carcass at least was unfit for human food. The state of the carcass was discovered by the purchaser, who had bought it in good faith, early in the morning after delivery, and he immediately notified the authorities. The police inspected the carcass and condemned it and ordered Mr. Threlfall to remove it. Which was done. It is a disgrace to our community that our citizens do not receive some protection in the way of meat inspection, and it is about time the health officials got busy. There is very little chance of any of our dealers foisting unfit meat on the public, the great danger being from meat killed elsewhere and brought to town for sale.

Clive News

After a very brief illness, Mr. W. G. Bachor about 89 years of age passed away suddenly on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 26 at the home of his youngest son, Gus Bachor, manager of the Meat Market.

The deceased had been ill only a short time and seemed to be recovering, but it was not to be. His death was a severe shock to the families and friends in town and community. Interment was made on Monday at Ponoka under the direction of the Baptist church, of which he and his wife have long been faithful members. Rev. Jas. Desson, of Lacombe officiated. He leaves to mourn his demise a beloved wife at eventide of life, two sons, William and Gus Bachor and their families, and a son at Ponoka, besides a host of old acquaintances in the district.

Deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones.

The Western Dramatic Society greatly delighted a large and appreciative audience at Tesc, on Friday evening, Feb. 21st when they presented the popular drama "Lighthouse Nan." Every character vied in doing his best in characterizing his part. The financial results were very gratifying considering the bad condition of the roads as there would have been a good many more come a long distance.

We are glad to report that Mrs. K. McDougall of Tesc has returned from Calgary where she had been summoned to the sick bed of her father who had a most serious operation and grave doubts were for some time held out for his recovery. Her many friends join in the hope that his recovery will speedily be realized.

Rev. I. Hughson and Percy Cull of the Clive Charge will attend the Lacombe Presbytery which is meeting in St. Andrew's Church this week.

REDUCES PRICE OF BOOZE

To assist in cutting down the cost of high living, the government has made some drastic cuts in the price of booze sold at Government Stores in the Province.

In Scotch whiskeys, reductions varied from 1 to 25c. a bottle and included such brands as Control Board Scotch, Gilbey's Spey Royal, Hudson's Bay, McMillan's Perfection, Queen Anne and White and Mackay. One line of Irish whiskey was reduced 15 cents on the 40-ounce bottle. B.C. Special Rye Whiskey was cut 25 cents on 40 ounce and 25 ounce bottles.

Ten lines of rum were included in the price cut which amounted from 10 to 25 cents a bottle on such brands as Fine Navy, Golden Grove, Governor General, Hudson's Bay, Old Buck, Old Sam and Borealis.

In gin reductions were five and ten cents a bottle on Burnett's and Gilbey's brands.

Nine lines of brandy were reduced from 5 to 20 cents a bottle. Brands included Control Board 3 Star, Godet, Hennessy, Martell and Monnet.

Four lines of port were reduced 10 to 15 cents a bottle and one Spanish wine was cut 10 cents. One sherry was reduced 10 cents.

Bordeaux, both red and white, cut in amounts ranging from 10 to 20 cents a bottle. Reductions in the price of burgundy ranged from 10 to 25c. and included practically all lines. Vermouth was cut 10 cents a bottle. Price reductions in Liqueurs ranged from 10 to 30 cents.

One line of champagne was reduced 10 cents. No changes were made in the prices of grain alcohol or beer.
